Anybody can say they want a peaceful world.

But it takes a lot of hard work, and a lot of dedication to actually get a peaceful world.

Actions speak louder than words.

And when it comes to the Russian Federation under the Putin regime, actions have spoken SO loudly.

It did not have to be this way. No one has forced Russia to invade a neighbouring country – a country guilty of nothing except for wishing to become a true part of the free and open world.

As if Russia had to invade Ukraine. As if Russia has to be an enemy of the free world. But the free world is an open club.

Russians, why do you want the world to fear you? And why do you want to fear the world?

You have so much to offer the world, and the world has so much to offer you. Just like Ukraine.

Ukrainians have become heroes to the free world for their brave fight against Russia. They have demonstrated that the bonds between free people will always be stronger than the fear for a regime like Russia.

A coalition with ten times the power of Russia, militarily as well as financially, has sworn to continue the support for Ukraine.

Russia, you will never win the war you have started. You will be weaker from it, not stronger.

But it is never too late to turn around.

No one in the West dreams of a world without Russia.

But that will be the final destination of the road that Russia has taken and is still going down.

A nation of a great culture and history will be lost – to the world and to themselves.

We all say we wish for a peaceful world.

And now it is time to prove it.

Russia, stop the war!
