A. Summary of the case

After refusing to recognize the results of the November 2020 parliamentary elections, the military declared a state of emergency and proceeded to seize power by force on 1 February 2021, the day that the new parliament was due to take office. The state of emergency was extended on 1 February 2023, effectively nullifying the promise to hold elections by August 2023. Although the military authorities allowed overwhelmingly peaceful protests to take place at first, the situation in Myanmar took a devastating turn for the worse in March 2021, with reports of live automatic ammunition and artillery used against civilians. The United Nations Special Rapporteur has recognized the widespread and systematic nature of the violations carried out by the military (known as the “Tatmadaw”) and declared that their scale met the threshold of crimes against humanity. According to the Assistance

For the purposes of this decision, the term “opposition” relates to members of parliament from political groups or parties whose decision-making power is limited and who are opposed to the ruling power.
Association for Political Prisoners (AAPP), as of 29 September 2023, some 4,131 people have been killed and 24,858 have been arbitrarily arrested since the coup, while 19,286 remain in detention. In 2022, the AAPP published a report claiming that the widespread and systematic use of arbitrary detention without judicial control, accompanied by the concealment of the whereabouts of victims, amounted to enforced disappearances, which also falls under crimes against humanity.

The complainant reports that the Speaker of the Parliament of Myanmar (Pyidaungsu Hluttaw), State Counsellor Aung San Suu Kyi and six other parliamentarians were placed under house arrest on the day of the coup, while 20 other members of parliament were arbitrarily arrested shortly thereafter. The violent arrest of Mr. Htay Min Thein on 4 April 2023 brought the total number of parliamentarians arbitrarily detained to 40, of whom 31 are still in detention. Of those detained, many are reportedly being held in secret locations in overcrowded prisons, where they are facing mistreatment and torture, with little or no access to medical care or legal counsel, a fate that is shared by thousands of arbitrarily detained citizens according to human rights reports. The complainant has also reported that five elected parliamentarians have died while avoiding arrest.

According to the complainant, on 4 February 2021, some 70 elected members of parliament met in the capital Naypyidaw and took an oath of office pledging to abide by the mandate granted to them by the people. On 5 February, 300 members of parliament met online and established the Committee Representing the Pyidaungsu Hluttaw (CRPH). The CRPH is considered as a terrorist organization by the military-appointed State Administration Council. On 31 March 2021, the CRPH appointed a National Unity Government (NUG), which they see as the legitimate interim government. According to the complainant, the CRPH members have been forced into hiding, fearing reprisals because of their political activities, and four of them have been arbitrarily stripped of their nationality. In addition, the relatives of the CRPH members have allegedly been repeatedly subjected to harassment and abuse by the military, with the father of Mr. Sithu Maung allegedly being tortured to death after his arrest. The former Speaker of the upper house of parliament and Prime Minister of the NUG, Mr. Mann Win Khaing Than, has reportedly been charged with high treason, while several other members of parliament face criminal charges for inciting civil disobedience and other charges carrying heavy penalties. On 16 November 2021, Ms. Aung San Suu Kyi and 15 other senior politicians were charged with election fraud during the 2022 elections, and on 5 December 2021 she was found guilty and convicted to four years in prison, which was followed by another conviction on 10 January 2022 on three separate charges. Altogether, she has been sentenced to 27 years in prison. However, the complainant has confirmed that the military authorities have released eight members of parliament since the coup.

On 24 April 2021, the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) held a leaders’ meeting, inviting a representative from the military authorities of Myanmar to attend. This meeting led to the adoption of a five-point consensus on Myanmar, calling for the immediate cessation of violence and the nomination of a special envoy to Myanmar to visit the country to meet with all parties concerned. As the military authorities showed no willingness to implement the five-point consensus, they have been excluded from ASEAN meetings as of October 2021.

At a hearing with the IPU Committee on the Human Rights of Parliamentarians in March 2022, the UN Special Rapporteur called for more concerted pressure on the military authorities by the entire international community. He also renewed his call to halt the flow of arms towards the military, which had reportedly received weapons that were used against the civilian population from a limited number of countries well after the coup d’état, as described in one of his reports. Meanwhile, the IPU Secretariat has received correspondence from the military authorities accusing the CRPH of choosing the path of confrontation and fostering terrorism and disorder, which has allegedly claimed over 1,000 lives. They also indicated a commitment to implementing the five-point consensus and the possibility of resuming dialogue, provided that trust and confidence-building measures are taken first.

In July 2022, the complainant communicated that the situation of detained members of parliament had deteriorated further, as the military authorities had banned all visits and communication with detained members of parliament, who have reportedly been transported to secret locations. The whereabouts of some members of parliament has been hidden by the authorities, prompting fears that they may be victims of enforced disappearance. This move followed the news that the Tatmadaw had executed four democracy activists – including former member of parliament Mr. Phyo Zayar Thaw – which provoked consternation and unrest among prisoners; some have reportedly gone on hunger strike. After the first executions in three decades, the Tatmadaw claimed that more would follow.

B. Decision

The Governing Council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union

1. Notes that the current case also includes a new complaint regarding the situation of Mr. Win, Mr. Htay Win Thein, Ms. Tin Ye, Ms. Htike Zaw, Mr. Myint Win, Mr. Saw Tin Win, and Mr. Thein Shwe; notes that the complaint is admissible, considering that: (i) it was submitted in due form by a qualified complainant under section I.1(a) of the Procedure for the examination and treatment of complaints (Annex I of the revised Rules and Practices of the Committee on the Human Rights of Parliamentarians); (ii) it concerns an incumbent member of parliament at the time of the initial allegations; and (iii) it concerns allegations of murder, enforced disappearance, torture, ill-treatment and other acts of violence, arbitrary arrest and detention, inhumane conditions of detention, lack of fair trial proceedings, violation of freedom of opinion and expression, violation of freedom of assembly and association, failure to respect parliamentary immunity and violations of the right to health, allegations that fall under the Committee’s mandate; takes note of the confirmation by the complainant that Mr. Kyaw Myint (MMR-279), Mr. Nay Lin Aung (MMR-322) and Mr. Zarni Min (MMR-284) have not been arbitrarily arrested, which corresponds to information received from the military authorities in the past; and decides to close the examination of their case as a result;

2. Regrets the lack of up-to-date information provided by the Permanent Mission of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar to the United Nations Office and other international organizations in Geneva with regard to the concerns expressed in the present case, despite several letters submitted to it by the Committee;

3. Is dismayed to learn that five national parliamentarians have lost their lives as they attempted to avoid arbitrary arrest; is appalled by eye-witness reports that 31 parliamentarians are being held incommunicado in prisons where they reportedly face ill-treatment, torture and gender-based violence, and that they are being held in inhumane detention conditions with limited access to medical care or legal counsel; is dismayed by reports that their situation has deteriorated even further following a ban on all communications and visits enforced by the military authorities after the execution of four men by hanging on 23 July 2022, including former parliamentarian Mr. Phyo Zayar Thaw; and is appalled by official declarations that following these first executions in 30 years, more executions would follow, indicating that the lives of detained parliamentarians are threatened;

4. Demands once again that the military authorities release the parliamentarians without delay in light of the serious reports of ill-treatment and poor prison conditions and in the absence of any concrete evidence showing that the parliamentarians have done anything other than merely exercise their basic human rights; urges the military authorities, for as long as the parliamentarians’ release fails to materialize, to provide specific information on each detained parliamentarian, including on their location, state of health and access to humane and safe detention conditions, family visits and confidential meetings with their lawyers, as well as on the trial of each detained parliamentarian; urges, once again, the military authorities to allow the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) access to visit parliamentarians in detention; and demands that the military authorities cease and desist from any attempts to arrest parliamentarians on political grounds and thus exposing them to the risk of death;

5. Reiterates its belief that the release of all detained parliamentarians is an essential step towards ending violence and building the trust that would allow for de-escalation and a return to dialogue, as prescribed by the five-point consensus brokered by ASEAN; calls on the military authorities to protect the lives and respect the rights of all members of parliament elected in November 2020 and hence to allow them to associate, assemble, express their views, receive and impart information and move about without fear of reprisals; urges the military authorities to refrain from taking physical or legal action against the 20 members of the CRPH, and any other person elected in November 2020, in connection with their parliamentary activities; wishes to receive, as a matter of urgency, specific information on these points from the military authorities; and urges the military authorities also to honour their commitment by: implementing in earnest the five-point consensus brokered by ASEAN and Resolution 2669 of the United Nations Security Council; immediately ceasing the use of lethal force against non-combatants and employing genuine restraint against those exercising their human rights; and abiding by the international principles of human rights and international humanitarian law;

6. Considers that the silence of the military authorities gives serious weight to reports of the widespread use of torture, rape, enforced disappearance and extrajudicial killings against political prisoners, including elected legislators; and stresses that the widespread and systematic practice of enforced disappearance, imprisonment and torture constitutes a crime against humanity;

7. Calls on all IPU Member Parliaments to urge their relevant national authorities to exercise their jurisdiction by prosecuting any person responsible for this crime against humanity, in keeping with the principle of universal jurisdiction; renews its call on all IPU Member Parliaments and observers, in particular in Asia, to press for respect for human rights and democratic principles in Myanmar and to show solidarity with the members of parliament who were elected in 2020, including members of the CRPH; welcomes the actions taken thus far and calls on IPU Member Parliaments to do more, including by raising the case publicly; hopes to be able to rely on the assistance of all relevant regional and international organizations, including ASEAN, to ensure that justice is done in this case; and calls on all IPU Member Parliaments and observers to support the International Parliamentarians Alliance for Myanmar and the United Nations Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Myanmar to that end;

8. Requests the Secretary General to convey this decision to the military authorities, the complainant and any third party likely to be in a position to supply relevant information; and also requests the Secretary General to explore all other possibilities for the concerns and requests for information raised in this decision to be effectively addressed;

9. Requests the Committee to continue examining this case and to report back to it in due course.
