Parliaments and the Sustainable Development Goals – A self-assessment toolkit

Parliamentary workshop

New York, 17 July, 9.30 am – 1 pm
Uganda House, Board Room (lobby level)

*Empowered lives.

In 2016, the IPU and UNDP produced an SDG self-assessment toolkit. The purpose of the toolkit is to help parliamentarians and parliamentary staff review key processes and identify institutional gaps in parliament's work on the SDGs. The toolkit is designed to enable parliaments to discuss issues, gather information and answer questions that help them make an informed decision about the most suitable and effective way to engage in SDG implementation. Assisting parliaments in using the toolkit and fostering action on the SDGs at the national level is one of IPU's priorities for the coming years.

The objective of the parliamentary workshop is to familiarize the parliamentarians attending the High Level Political Forum with the self-assessment toolkit and help them assess the readiness of parliaments to engage in SDG implementation. The workshop will be open to a maximum of 25 parliamentarians on a first-come first served basis. It will be conducted in English.

Scenario

Participants will be divided into groups of roughly 8 persons each. Every effort will be made to reflect geographical and gender diversity in the groups.

Each group will work on a set of questions selected from the self-assessment toolkit. Three sets of questions will be discussed in the first hour of the exercise and another three in the second, enabling participants to share their views and recommendations on all questions.

In their discussions participants will be invited to reflect on their experiences, practices and challenges. The group work will be facilitated by IPU and UNDP staff.

Questions

Q1: Building understanding of the SDGs in parliament

- 1) Have you received any training sessions on the SDGs? What should training consist of, particularly for new MPs?*
- 2) Are there any mechanisms or structures in place to enable you to discuss SDG issues? How effective are they?*

Q2: Bringing the SDGs from the global to the local level

- 1) Is there a national plan for the implementation of the SDGs? Has it been formally endorsed by parliament?*
- 2) How effectively are parliament and government working together on the SDGs? To what extent does the government seek to engage parliament in implementing the SDGs?*

Q3: Mainstreaming the SDGs within parliamentary mechanisms

- 1) Have parliamentary committees (of each house) discussed how to effectively engage with implementing the SDGs?*
- 2) Has each parliamentary committee identified which Goals and targets they should engage with and how?*

Q4: Financing the SDGs

- 1) To what extent does parliament consider the SDGs when discussing and adopting the budget?*
- 2) How effectively can parliament scrutinize budget expenditures and assess their impact on SDGs implementation?*

Q5: Monitoring SDG implementation:

- 1) To what extent does parliament review, debate and take action on progress reports produced by the implementation of the SDGs and/or national sustainable development plans?*
- 2) Can parliament initiate and run its own inquiries into issues related to SDG implementation?*

Q6: Engaging with the public

- 1) To what extent does parliament meet with citizens, civil society organizations and academia to discuss the SDGs or development issues?*
- 2) Do parliamentary committees conduct field visits to oversee SDG implementation and the impact of SDG-related programmes on regions and communities? How effective is such an oversight tool, in your opinion?*
