PRESENTATION LETTER OF MS. SALMA ATAULLAHJAN, SENATOR OF CANADA

Dear Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that I announce my candidacy for the President of the Inter-Parliamentary Union (IPU). I believe strongly in the values and ideals of the IPU and I am deeply honoured by this opportunity. My priorities for my tenure as President of the IPU would include parliamentary diplomacy, human rights and gender inequity, education access, and climate action.

Parliamentary Diplomacy: I believe strongly that what the IPU does best is encourage dialogue between countries. As President of the IPU I would work to facilitate collaboration while encouraging equity and diversity among parliamentarians. I also hope to support the IPU's continued work to strengthen the role of parliaments globally. In particular, by creating training opportunities for parliamentarians, including underrepresented groups such as racialized individuals, women, and young parliamentarians.

Human Rights and Gender Inequity: We must continue our work to protect human rights globally, especially amongst vulnerable groups. I believe strongly that it is time to end the practice of child marriages. Young girls married before the age of 18 are more likely to experience violence from their partner and suffer from health problems, and psychological issues. I also look forward to continuing the IPU's work to reduce maternal mortality globally. This is a portfolio that I am strongly committed to as I have a history of working with the IPU in this sphere.

Access to Education: Ensuring access to education for children and adolescents, especially those who are disenfranchised, is essential. This requires not only providing physical access to affordable schools, but also addressing the factors such as poverty that force so many children to drop out of school.

Climate Action: One of the most pressing dilemmas that we are currently facing globally is increased climate shocks such as flooding and drought. These climate shocks have already led to food insecurity, and famines. Decreasing access to fresh water is also a growing concern with many countries already grappling with water shortages. I believe concerted effort to address these concerns is crucial, and I hope to continue the dialogue on climate action and the promotion of sustainable growth.

In our current global climate as countries grapple with COVID-19 and its impacts on economies, infrastructure, and health, there is a unique opportunity to build back better than before. We are still learning what the long-term impacts of COVID-19 will be on the world we know. However what COVID-19 has taught us is that we are one global community and what happens in one country has implications for communities across the world. It is in this spirit of global community, I offer my candidacy for President of the IPU.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed)

The Hon. Salma ATAULLAHJAN (Ms.)
Senator, Canada

COMMUNICATION ADDRESSED TO THE SECRETARY GENERAL
BY THE SPEAKER OF THE SENATE AND THE SPEAKER OF
THE HOUSE OF COMMONS OF CANADA

16 October 2020

Dear Mr. Chungong,

We are writing today to express support for the candidacy of our Canadian colleague, Senator Salma Ataullahjan, for the prestigious position of President of the Inter-Parliamentary Union.

Senator Ataullahjan has been attending IPU events since 2011. In 2012, she was elected President of the Canadian Group of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, a position she held until 2016 when she became the association's Vice-President. She acted as a co-rapporteur for an IPU resolution entitled Access to health as a basic right: The role of parliaments in addressing key challenges to securing the health of women and children and, in 2014, she was named the IPU Goodwill Ambassador on Maternal, Newborn and Child Health.

Senator Ataullahjan served for one year as a member of the IPU Executive Committee in 2014, where she was elected Chair of its Sub-Committee on Finance. In addition, she recently finished a four-year term on the Bureau of Women Parliamentarians which coordinates the work of the IPU's Forum of Women Parliamentarians. In this role, she was regularly called upon to chair breakout sessions to provide input on IPU resolutions. She has been a member of the IPU Committee on Middle East Questions since 2017 and has served as its President since 2018.

Senator Ataullahjan was the head of the Canadian delegation for the two most recent IPU Assemblies (Doha, Qatar in April 2019 and Belgrade, Serbia in October 2019) where, in addition to her other roles, she served as a substitute for David McGuinty, MP, PC on the IPU Executive Committee. At the most recent IPU Assembly, she delivered the General Debate speech for the Canadian delegation on the topic of Strengthening international law: Parliamentary roles and mechanisms, and the contribution of regional cooperation.

Her years of experience with the IPU and on the international scene make her a very strong candidate in the upcoming election for a new President of the IPU and we are happy to support her in her bid and encourage all members to do so.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed)

George J. FUREY, Q.C.
Speaker of the Senate

Anthony ROTA
Speaker of the House of Commons
