COD-148 – Jean Jacques Mamba

Alleged human rights violations

- ✓ Threats, acts of intimidation
- ✓ Lack of due process at the investigation stage
- ✓ Violation of freedom of opinion and expression

A. Summary of the case

On 13 May 2020, Mr. Jean Jacques Mamba filed a petition, which was signed by 62 members of parliament, seeking the removal from office of the First Deputy Speaker of the National Assembly, Mr. Jean-Marc Kabund. This petition came about as a result of Mr. Kabund's refusal to respond to two written requests made by Mr. Jean Jacques Mamba inviting Mr. Kabund to explain the statements he had made regarding the organization of a congress for parliamentarians costing seven million US dollars.

Following the filing of the petition with the National Assembly, member of parliament Mr. Simon Mpiana claimed that his signature had been forged and filed a complaint to the court of cassation. The complainant contends that Mr. Mpiana's accusations were unfounded, in that two members of parliament allegedly attested that Mr. Mpiana had signed the petition in their presence. The former First Deputy Speaker also filed an appeal with the Council of State challenging his removal from office.

On 22 May 2020, Mr. Mamba alerted the police to the attack on his home. The day after the attack, police personnel came to his home and proceeded to arrest him. The complainant alleges that Mr. Mamba's arrest took place under humiliating conditions and in the absence of any documentation authorizing his arrest. Mr. Mamba was reportedly immediately brought before the judge of the court of cassation without being given an opportunity to attend a hearing. According to the complainant, the purpose of this manoeuvre was to make sure Mr. Mamba was convicted on the same day in a bid to quash his petition and thus render it null and void. This was unsuccessful because, after noting the absence of a hearing and of information on the facts justifying his arrest, the court of cassation judge decided to release Mr. Mamba and to place him under house arrest. Furthermore, the National Assembly considered Mr. Mamba's petition after a validation committee verified the 62 signatures. Thus, on 25 May 2020, the First Deputy Speaker was removed from office. This decision was ratified by the Constitutional Court on 17 June 2020.

On 27 May 2020, the National Assembly passed a resolution calling for the suspension of Mr. Mamba's detention and the proceedings against him, pursuant to article 107 of the Constitution, which applies to ongoing parliamentary sessions. On the same day, the court of cassation decided to stay the proceedings until the end of the current parliamentary session.

On 15 September 2020, when the parliamentary session resumed, the prosecution issued a fresh warrant for Mr. Mamba's arrest on the premise that the National Assembly's resolution only applied to the preceding session. Mr. Mamba has since left the country to avoid prison. The complainant adds that the member of parliament has lost all confidence in the justice system, as he claims that the decision to convict him has already been taken.

In a meeting with the IPU Secretary General, the Minister for Human Rights of the Democratic Republic of the Congo affirmed the arbitrary nature of Mr. Mamba's detention. He also reaffirmed his support for the member of parliament and his commitment to upholding the rights of members of parliament.

B. Decision

The Governing Council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union

1. Notes that the complaint concerning Mr. Jean Jacques Mamba is admissible, considering that the complaint: (i) was submitted in due form by complainants qualified under Section I.1(a) of the Procedure for the examination and treatment of complaints (Annex I of the Revised Rules and Practices of the Committee on the Human Rights of Parliamentarians); (ii) concerns an incumbent member of parliament at the time of the initial allegations; and (iii) concerns allegations of violation of freedom of opinion and expression, lack of due process at the investigation stage, and threats and acts of intimidation, allegations that fall under the Committee's mandate;
2. Is greatly concerned by the fact that Mr. Mamba's arrest appears to have violated his parliamentary immunity and that the legal proceedings against him appear to stem from the legitimate exercise of his parliamentary mandate; stresses that Mr. Mamba's petition exceeded the 50 signatures required by the Rules of Procedure of the National Assembly and that, of the 62 signatures collected, only the authenticity of one has been questioned; notes that the National Assembly has verified and validated this petition and that the Constitutional Court has upheld the removal from office of the former First Deputy Speaker;
3. Regrets that Mr Mamba was forced to leave his country and is therefore unable to participate in the work of the current parliamentary session due to the fresh arrest warrant issued against him;
4. Points out that this case must be seen in the context of a large number of other cases in the Democratic Republic of the Congo that have been referred to the Committee on the Human Rights of Parliamentarians and which have so far not been fully resolved; stresses that Mr. Mamba's case should therefore prompt the competent authorities to take these concerns in question all the more seriously; encourages the authorities to ensure that progress made so far at the political level is not undermined, by taking the necessary steps to guarantee Mr. Mamba's security and uphold his fundamental rights;

5. Welcomes steps taken by the National Assembly in this regard following Mr. Mamba's arrest on 22 May 2020 to guarantee his rights, in particular the passing of a resolution on 27 May 2020 calling for the suspension of proceedings against him; invites the parliamentary authorities to take all necessary measures to ensure that Mr. Mamba is able to return to the Democratic Republic of the Congo without fear of further arrest and prosecution on the same charges;
6. Takes note with satisfaction the support shown by the Minister for Human Rights with respect to Mr. Mamba's rights to exercise his parliamentary mandate; and expresses the hope that he will continue to follow up Mr. Mamba's case and that other executive and judicial authorities will do likewise; wishes to be kept informed in this respect;
7. Requests the Secretary General to convey this decision to the parliamentary authorities, the Minister for Human Rights, the Prosecutor General, the complainant and any third party likely to be in a position to supply relevant information;
8. Requests the Committee to continue examining this case and to report back to it in due course.

Alleged human rights violations:

- ✓ Lack of due process at the investigation stage
- ✓ Lack of fair trial proceedings
- ✓ Right of appeal
- ✓ Violation of freedom of opinion and expression
- ✓ Violation of freedom of movement

A. Summary of the case

Mr. Ndongala has been subjected to a campaign of political and legal harassment aimed at removing him from the political process since June 2012. In April 2013, he was arrested and on 26 March 2014 he was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment for rape (for engaging in sexual relations with consenting children in return for payment) following a trial marred by serious flaws. The Committee concluded that the case was highly politically motivated and that Mr. Ndongala's fundamental rights had been violated. On 3 November 2016, the United Nations Human Rights Committee reached similar conclusions and called for his release.

Mr. Ndongala was excluded from the presidential pardon granted to political prisoners in March 2019 following the elections held in December 2018. The Minister of Justice granted him parole on 20 March 2019 on the grounds that he had served over a quarter of his sentence and that "that he had made amends during his incarceration". Mr. Ndongala was released. However, his parole may be revoked at any time if he breaches the restrictive conditions attached to it. These conditions prohibit him from making statements and engaging in political activities "of such a nature as to disrupt public order and the smooth functioning of State institutions", from "causing scandal by his conduct", from travelling outside the country and from moving freely until April 2023. Mr. Ndongala is required to appear every Monday before the Prosecutor General at the Court of Cassation.

B. Decision

The Governing Council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union

1. Notes with satisfaction that Mr. Ndongala has finally been released;
2. Deplores, nonetheless, that he has not been accorded the presidential pardon granted to other political prisoners and that his release is conditional; underlines that most of the restrictive conditions attached to his release have nothing to do with the crime for which he was convicted; and considers that these conditions are part of the ongoing campaign of political and legal harassment to which he has been subjected since 2012; recalls that the Supreme Court's decision did not deprive Mr. Ndongala of his civil and political rights, that the United Nations Human Rights Committee condemned the DRC for violating its obligations under the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and called for Mr. Ndongala's immediate release and the annulment of his conviction;
3. Considers that the conditions attached to his release yet again undermine Mr. Ndongala's fundamental rights while again confirming the political nature of the case; calls therefore on the relevant Congolese authorities to end these conditions;
4. Encourages the new parliamentary authorities elected in the last legislative elections to promote the protection of the fundamental rights of all members of the National Assembly irrespective of their political will to ensure that similar violations do not occur again in the future; also reiterates its long-standing recommendation that a level of appeal be introduced in judicial proceedings for parliamentarians to guarantee a fair trial in accordance with the relevant international standards; and calls again on the Congolese authorities to revise the Constitution in this regard;
5. Requests the Secretary General to convey this decision to the parliamentary authorities, the Minister of Justice, the complainants and to any third party likely to be in a position to supply relevant information;
6. Requests the Committee to continue examining this case and to report back to it in due course.

Decision adopted unanimously by the IPU Governing Council at its 198th session (Lusaka, 23 March 2016)

The Governing Council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union,

Referring to the cases of former members of parliament Mr. Pierre Jacques Chalupa, Mr. Eugène Diomi Ndongala, Mr. Dieudonné Bakungu Mythondeke and 29 other parliamentarians who were removed from office, to the decisions it adopted at its 193rd and 194th sessions (October 2013 and March 2014), and to the decisions adopted by the Committee at its 143rd and 149th sessions (January 2015 and January 2016),

Having before it the cases of Mr. Adrien Phoba Mbambi and Mr. Martin Fayulu Madidi, members of the current opposition, which were considered by the Committee on the Human Rights of Parliamentarians pursuant to the Procedure for the examination and treatment of complaints (Annex 1 of the revised rules and practices),

Taking into account a letter from the Speaker of the National Assembly of 9 March 2016 and information provided by the complainants,

Referring to the hearing with the delegation of the Democratic Republic of the Congo (the DRC) during the 134th IPU Assembly (Lusaka, March 2016),

Recalling the conclusions and recommendations of the Committee on the Human Rights of Parliamentarians' report on the mission to the DRC in June 2013 (CL/193/11b)-R.2), as well as the additions made to the case files of the 34 members and former members of parliament listed above,

Recalling that the former members of parliament concerned were expelled from the National Assembly, and that some were even threatened, detained, prosecuted and sentenced to periods of imprisonment after having expressed political opinions that differed from those of the presidential majority and those of the Head of State himself, with the exception of Mr. Phoba and Mr. Fayulu, who are currently still serving their terms of office,

Recalling that the DRC currently has the highest number of cases before the Committee, with 34 members and former members of parliament subjected to serious violations of their fundamental rights; that a total of 50 cases relating to the DRC have been examined by the Committee since the country's 2006 legislative elections (36 since the last parliamentary elections of 2011, and 14 during the previous legislative term); that none of those cases have been fully resolved and the grounds for complaint, which have grown in number over the last few years, have displayed similar and recurring traits; that three cases were closed after it was found that the fundamental rights of the members of parliament concerned, namely Mr. Muhindo Nzangi (DRC/81), Mr. Jean Bertrand Ewanga (DRC/83) and Mr. Roger Lumbala (DRC/80), had been violated by the DRC authorities and that it had become impossible to find satisfactory solutions to their cases,

Considering that no progress has been made towards a satisfactory resolution of the cases currently under examination,

Considering that Mr. Phoba was subjected to an attack in February 2014, and that the perpetrators have not yet been brought to justice, even though a complaint against them was lodged with the judicial authorities immediately after the attack,

Considering that, according to the complainant, Mr. Fayulu, member of the opposition and leader of the political party Engagement for Citizenship and Development (ECIDE), was arbitrarily arrested in violation of his parliamentary immunity on 14 February 2016 by officers of the military intelligence services; that those officers allegedly ill-treated, threatened and insulted Mr. Fayulu; that the officers allegedly confiscated his vehicle and personal effects, including documents relating to the activities of his political party, considerable sums of money and his mobile telephone – the entire contents of which were also downloaded by the officers; that Mr. Fayulu lodged a complaint after that incident; that the Prosecutor General is reported to have opened prosecution proceedings against Mr. Fayulu and then reportedly submitted an application to the National Assembly requesting that Mr. Fayulu's parliamentary immunity be lifted; that, according to the complainant, Mr. Fayulu was not informed of the charges laid against him, nor was he informed that a request for his parliamentary immunity to be lifted had been made, nor of the reasons for that request; that the complainant alleges that the aim of arresting Mr. Fayulu was to prevent the staging of a day of opposition protests scheduled for 16 February ("Dead City Day") and formed part of an element of a wider campaign of repression of the opposition in the context of numerous attempts to impede Mr. Fayulu's political activities and weaken the opposition,

Considering that the cases under examination bear witness to the existence of general problems within the National Assembly, but also in the executive and the judiciary, all of which relate to the protection of the fundamental rights of parliamentarians in the DRC, irrespective of their political affiliations, given the number of members and former members of parliament concerned, and the severity of the common concerns in the various cases, which relate to:

- Violation of freedom of opinion and expression: the parliamentarians and former parliamentarians concerned all voiced opinions criticizing the Head of State, government policy and the presidential majority before suffering violations of their rights;
- Instrumentalizing of justice and absence of due process: the independence of the judiciary and observance of international fair trial standards have been very much called into question in all the cases examined, given the conditions in which the trials took place and the lack of any legal remedy for the parliamentarians sentenced (and, in the case of Mr. Phoba, given the continuing impunity of those who attacked him);
- Arbitrary revocation of the parliamentary mandate and violation of parliamentary immunity: in several of the cases examined, the mandate of the deputies concerned was revoked on questionable grounds while they were in office. Those members of parliament were not informed or given the chance to argue their side of the case in advance. The prosecution used the flagrante delicto procedure to short-circuit the process of lifting parliamentary immunity. The parliamentary authorities never requested to see the evidence that proved that flagrante delicto applied, and neither discussed nor called into question the fact that provisions of the Constitution had been circumvented in this way in violation of the rights of the parliamentarians concerned. In addition, the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure regarding flagrante delicto cases and observance of the rights of defence have not been fully respected in the subsequent judicial process,

Also considering that serious concerns remain in the cases of Mr. Chalupa and Mr. Ndongala regarding their state of health and their inability to receive appropriate care because of the actions of the Congolese authorities; that the arbitrary stripping of Mr. Chalupa's Congolese nationality also raises a particularly serious problem for the former member of parliament and businessman, who has indisputable ties to the DRC and who was made stateless as a result of being found guilty of forgery and counterfeiting after a trial characterized by serious irregularities and which offered no legal remedy,

Considering that no legislative or constitutional reforms that had previously been recommended have since been implemented in order to bring Congolese law in line with relevant international standards, particularly with regard to: (i) strengthening the independence of the judiciary and respect for fair trial standards, particularly on the issue of introducing a two-stage judicial procedure with regard to parliamentarians, in order that their right to defence be fully guaranteed where prosecutions arise, as is the case with all Congolese citizens; (ii) amendments to legislation relating to attacks on national security and crimes relating to the Head of State, in conformity with international standards on freedom of expression; (iii) the overhaul of the procedure for settling electoral disputes designed to strengthen transparency and equality, including by clarifying the rules for the provision of evidence; (iv) amendments to the procedure for the validation of the parliamentary mandate to ensure that the final validation of newly elected parliamentarians is only declared at the conclusion of the final results of any electoral dispute, once all avenues of appeal have been exhausted, or at the very least to ensure that a mechanism be found to avoid situations in which, at each election, disqualifications systematically occur some months after newly elected members have taken up their seats,

Considering that, during the hearing that took place at the 134th IPU Assembly (Lusaka, March 2016), the delegation referred to correspondence that had previously been sent by the Speaker of the National Assembly, and reaffirmed its commitment to finding solutions to the cases submitted to the Committee, and highlighted once again that those cases did not fall within their competence at the present time because of the principle of the separation of powers. In relation to the recent arrest of Mr. Fayulu, the delegation noted that the Speaker of the National Assembly had issued a statement calling for his immediate release and confirming that, to date, no request for the lifting of Mr. Fayulu's parliamentary immunity had been sent from the Prosecutor General. The delegation also noted that the question of compensation for disqualified members had been passed to the Government, which had not yet responded,

Considering that the situation of the 34 members and former members of parliament in question forms part of a worrying political context in which the political space has continued to shrink, while at the same time, fears have been expressed in relation to the Constitution and whether the presidential and legislative elections scheduled for November 2016 will be held; that in a report of December 2015, the United Nations Joint Human Rights Office in the DRC documented that restrictions on freedom of opinion and expression were on the rise with regard to opposition politicians, the media and civil society. The United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights has called on the authorities to ensure that all its citizens, irrespective of their political opinions, are able to participate fully in open, democratic debate, and that civil society campaigners, media professionals and opposition politicians are able to conduct their work without fear, in order that the next elections are conducted credibly and peacefully,

Bearing in mind that the DRC is party to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and, by virtue of articles 2, 9, 10, 14, 19, 25 and 26 in particular, has committed to the requirement to respect and guarantee the fundamental rights of its citizens, including members of parliament, notably the rights to liberty and security of the person, to freedom of expression, the right to vote and to be elected in elections that ensure the free expression of the will of the electorate, the right to participate freely in the management of public affairs, the right to equality before the law, and the prohibition of all forms of discrimination and equitable and effective protection against all forms of discrimination, particularly with regard to political opinions; that the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights, to which the DRC is also a signatory, includes similar provisions,

Also bearing in mind that the preamble of the Constitution of the DRC reaffirms that the Congolese people support and are attached to international human rights standards, and that title II of the Constitution guarantees human rights and fundamental freedoms for Congolese citizens,

1. Reiterates its profound concern with regard to the situation of many members and former members of parliament, who have been subjected to serious violations of their fundamental rights, and to the concerning developments of the political situation in the DRC in relation to the upcoming elections;
2. Urges the authorities, once again, to take urgent measures to end those violations and resolve the situation of all the parliamentarians concerned using all possible means;
3. Expresses the hope that satisfactory solutions can be found quickly in the cases under consideration; and believes that a follow-up visit by the Committee to Kinshasa could help speed up the process; hopes that the delegation can meet with all the relevant authorities, with the complainants – including Mr. Ndongala in prison – and with any other persons it might deem useful to meet with for the successful fulfilment of its mission; requests the Secretary General to make contact with the authorities for that purpose;
4. Reaffirms that the cases are of a particularly political nature and that the authorities, and the parliamentary authorities above all, are both duty-bound and obliged to guarantee respect for and the protection of the fundamental rights of all parliamentarians, irrespective of their political affiliation; recalls that depriving a member of parliament of his mandate, his freedom and/or security because of a political opinion that he or she expressed constitutes a contravention of the provisions of article 19 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, to which the DRC is a signatory;
5. Remains deeply preoccupied by Mr. Chalupa's medical condition; and renews its call to the authorities, for humanitarian reasons, to issue as a matter of urgency travel documents that would allow him to travel abroad to receive medical care and then return to the DRC; also considers that the authorities should recognize as swiftly as possible that he has a right to Congolese nationality;
6. Deeply regrets Mr. Ndongala's continued detention; and yet again urges the DRC authorities to release him, in accordance with the recommendations made by the Head of State at the end of the national consultation exercise held in October 2013; and reiterates its concern over Mr. Ndongala's health; highlights the contradictory information provided by the complainants and the authorities with regard to the denial of medical care in detention; and renews its call to the authorities to ensure that measures are taken as quickly as possible to enable him to receive proper medical care;

7. Also expects that, before the end of the next ordinary parliamentary session, the National Assembly should undertake to transfer the financial entitlements due to the 29 members of parliament whose mandates were declared invalid, as well as providing them with a symbolic amount of compensation; fails to understand why the National Assembly referred the case to the Government, since responsibility for the payment of parliamentary allowances falls under its jurisdiction; wishes to have clarification in this regard; and reiterates its wish to be kept informed of any progress made;
8. Renews its invitation to the authorities to undertake appropriate legislative and constitutional reforms to bring an end to these recurrent violations of the parliamentarians' fundamental rights; and reaffirms the availability of the IPU to provide technical assistance to the Parliament of the DRC in that regard;
9. Requests the Secretary General to convey this decision to the competent authorities, the complainants and any third party likely to be in a position to supply relevant information;
10. Requests the Committee to continue examining this case and to report back to it in due course.

Democratic Republic of the Congo

DRC/85 - Martin Fayulu

Decision adopted unanimously by the IPU Governing Council at its 199th session (Geneva, 27 October 2016)

The Governing Council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union,

Referring to the case of Mr. Martin Fayulu, a member of the National Assembly of the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC), and to the decision it adopted at its 198th session (March 2016),

Referring to the letters from the Speaker of the National Assembly of 21 April and 3, 13 and 19 October 2016, and information provided by the complainant,

*Considering that Mr. Fayulu, an opposition member of parliament and leader of the political party Engagement for Citizenship and Development (ECIDé), was arrested by intelligence service officers on 14 February 2016 and that the following has been placed on the file regarding the incident:*

- According to the complainant, Mr. Fayulu was assaulted, arrested and arbitrarily detained by the aforementioned officers before being released the same evening; his vehicle and personal belongings were confiscated and never returned back to him; Mr. Fayulu filed a complaint against his arbitrary arrest and violation of his rights and parliamentary immunity, but there has been no progress in the legal proceedings to date;
- According to the complainant, this incident was intended to prevent a day of national protest scheduled for 16 February 2016 ("Dead City Day"), which was being jointly organized by opposition parties;
- According to the complainant, the Public Prosecutor had initiated proceedings against Mr. Fayulu (file reference: RMP V/039/PGR/SMM) and requested the National Assembly to lift his parliamentary immunity; Mr. Fayulu had not been informed of the charges laid against him, or of the lifting of his immunity;
- The Speaker of the National Assembly stated that he had intervened immediately to secure Mr. Fayulu's release, referring the matter to the Public Prosecutor to ensure compliance with the Constitution and his parliamentary immunity, and publicly expressing his position in a tweet; he believed that, as the case had been referred to the courts, the National Assembly was no longer responsible for the matter; he recommended that Mr. Fayulu should hire the services of a lawyer and use the procedure provided for in Congolese law (procédure de prise à partie), instead of relying on the Bureau of the National Assembly's intervention; he has not confirmed whether legal proceedings were initiated against Mr. Fayulu, or a request submitted for the lifting of his parliamentary immunity;

Considering that, on 19 September 2016, Mr. Fayulu sustained a serious head injury during a protest organized by the opposition in Kinshasa, and that the following allegations and information have been placed on file concerning the incident:

E

- The complainant alleges that a police officer deliberately targeted Mr. Fayulu, firing a rubber bullet at him at point-blank range; he stated that six young people surrounding the member of parliament at the protest were themselves hit by live bullets; he criticizes the National Assembly for not denouncing the incident and failing to provide assistance to Mr. Fayulu; the complainant further expresses concern following the announcement by the Public Prosecutor of charges being brought against the organizers of the protest and several members of the opposition following the demonstrations, and of a foreign travel ban being imposed on them; the complainant stated that it was not known whether these measures had been taken against Mr. Fayulu;
- The Speaker of the National Assembly underscored that the 19 September 2016 protest had had "no direct impact" on the authority of Mr. Fayulu as an elected representative, and reiterated that the National Assembly had condemned the acts of violence committed during the public protests of 19 and 20 September 2016; he reported that criminal investigations were under way and that the National Assembly could not interfere in the conduct of the case; he expressed the hope that the investigations would proceed quickly and that the identified perpetrators of these acts of violence would be brought to justice; he reaffirmed his commitment to the protection of human rights and the rights of parliamentarians "provided they also prove themselves to be exemplary models in respecting the rights of others and the laws of the Republic";
- The Speaker of the National Assembly emphasized that he had instructed the 2nd Deputy Speaker to enquire about Mr. Fayulu's situation following the protest and to take appropriate measures; he affirmed the Bureau's willingness to provide Mr. Fayulu with support, while recalling that the process to provide medical care was subject to fulfilling certain normal administrative formalities; he pointed out that it was Mr. Fayulu's responsibility to inform the Bureau of the circumstances and place of his hospitalization, so that the assistance mechanism could be activated, as the Bureau did not have the authority to do so on its own,

Considering that the complainant alleges that the two incidents that took place in 2016 involving Mr. Fayulu came after a number of previous tactics had been used to impede his political activities and to weaken the opposition; that these tactics were orchestrated against him because of his role in coordinating an opposition platform, his stance in favour of the Head of State stepping down at the end of his term of office, and the announcement of his intention to run in the presidential elections,

Considering that these successive incidents occurred at a time of political tension and mounting repression of the opposition because of the elections initially scheduled for the end of 2016, which had been postponed despite objections from the opposition,

Considering that the preliminary investigation report published on 20 October 2016 by the United Nations Joint Human Rights Office in the DRC on the acts of violence committed during the protests in Kinshasa from 19 to 21 September 2016 concluded that more than 422 people had been victims of human rights violations by State agents (with at least 48 killed, 75 injured and nearly 300 persons illegally arrested and detained by State agents); that the report states that security forces are responsible for most of the violations committed during the protests and that they used excessive force to prevent the protesters from peacefully exercising their freedom of assembly and protest; the report confirms that the Government announced that charges were being brought against the "organizers of the protest, those involved in the acts of violence and the masterminds" and that a travel ban was being imposed; that the report recommends, in particular, that the Congolese authorities promptly carry out independent, thorough, credible, transparent and impartial investigations into the violations committed by State agents and to bring the alleged perpetrators to justice, regardless of their ranks and positions, and to guarantee the protection of the fundamental rights of the political opponents; that the report further confirms that the protesters are also to blame for several acts of violence, including the death of four police officers and the destruction and looting of numerous public buildings, and also recommends investigations and the imposition of sanctions against those responsible for the violence,

1. Thanks the Speaker of the National Assembly for the information provided and his cooperation;

2. Expresses its concern about the violence to which Mr. Fayulu was subjected during the 19 September 2016 protest and the inaction of the Congolese courts with respect to the incidents of February 2016, even more so given the worsening political situation in the DRC;
3. Urges the relevant authorities to bring the perpetrators to justice as soon as possible following independent, credible, transparent and impartial investigations, and to return the belongings illegally confiscated back to Mr. Fayulu as a matter of urgency;
4. Recalls that impunity constitutes a threat both to parliamentarians and to those they represent and therefore assaults against parliamentarians, if they remain unpunished, not only violate the fundamental rights of those concerned, but affect the ability of parliament to fulfill its institutional mission; stresses that parliament has an obligation to ensure that no effort is spared in holding the perpetrators accountable; and urges the National Assembly to take all appropriate steps as soon as possible and to keep the Committee informed in that regard;
5. Also wishes to know whether Mr. Fayulu: (i) is currently subject to legal proceedings, a request to lift his parliamentary immunity and/or a travel ban; (ii) filed a formal complaint following the 19 September 2016 protest; (iii) submitted a formal request for medical assistance to the National Assembly, in accordance with the normal procedure; and (iv) used the procédure de prise à partie with respect to the incidents of February 2016;
6. Requests the Secretary General to convey this decision to the competent authorities, the Minister of Justice and any third party likely to be in a position to supply relevant information;
7. Requests the Committee to continue examining this case and to report back to it in due course.

COD86 – Franck Diongo

Alleged human rights violations:

- ✓ Torture, ill-treatment and other acts of violence
- ✓ Impunity
- ✓ Lack of due process at the investigation stage and lack of fair trial proceedings
- ✓ Right of appeal

A. Summary of the case

Mr. Diongo, an opposition member of parliament, was arrested together with several activists from his political party at his home on 19 December 2016 by presidential guard soldiers. He was tortured and then summarily tried under an accelerated procedure, despite a worrying medical condition resulting from ill-treatment in detention. On 28 December 2016, he was sentenced, in both the first and the last instance, to five years in prison for arbitrary arrest and illegal detention aggravated by torture. Moreover, the authorities have taken no action to punish any of the perpetrators of the acts of torture committed against the Mr. Diongo.

Mr. Diongo's arrest and conviction took place against a background of protests to postpone the elections in the DRC and against the extension of President Kabila's mandate (which should have ended on 19 December 2016) and the increased repression of the opposition and civil society. His arrest occurred amidst a wave of arrests and acts of violence on 19 and 20 December 2016 unleashed by the Congolesse security forces to prevent any demonstrations by the opposition taking place. Mr. Diongo was the only politician who dared to continue calling on the people to protest on that symbolic date.

Following Mr. Felix Tshisekedi's victory in the December 2018 presidential elections, he granted presidential pardons to more than 700 political prisoners on 13 March and Mr. Diongo was released as a result.

B. Decision

The Governing Council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union

1. Notes with satisfaction that Mr. Diongo was one of the political prisoners granted a presidential pardon and that he has been released;
2. Recalls that Mr. Diongo had been arrested and sentenced to prevent him from continuing to express his opposition to the extension of the Head of State's mandate, and so as to put an end to the protests organized by the opposition, that his trial had been marred by serious flaws and that his fundamental rights to freedom of expression, peaceful assembly and a fair trial had neither been observed nor protected by the executive, judicial and legislative authorities of the DRC, and that Mr. Diongo had been prevented from taking part in the elections because of this politically motivated conviction, which was in violation of article 25 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;
3. Wishes to ensure, and to receive official confirmation from the relevant authorities, that Mr. Diongo's conviction cannot constitute grounds for preventing him from standing for election in the future; requests therefore the DRC authorities to confirm that, following the announcement of the presidential pardon decree, Mr. Diongo's conviction was annulled and deleted from his criminal record, and to provide it with a copy of the extract from the criminal record attesting to that fact;
4. Deplores the fact that no action has been taken by the Congolese authorities to independently and impartially investigate the torture inflicted on Mr. Diongo and other suspects arrested with him, or to punish the soldiers responsible for these acts, despite the complaint filed by Mr. Diongo with the military courts;
5. Urges therefore the Congolese authorities to take all necessary steps to ensure that the perpetrators of these acts are brought to justice without delay and relieved of their duties; encourages the Congolese authorities to implement a zero-tolerance policy on torture and ill-treatment in detention, in strict compliance with the recent decision to close illegal places of detention; also calls on the Congolese authorities to ensure that Mr. Diongo is compensated for the wrongdoings he suffered;
6. Requests the Secretary General to convey this decision to the parliamentary authorities, the Minister of Justice, the complainant and any third party likely to be in a position to supply relevant information;
7. Requests the Committee to continue examining this case and to report back to it in due course.
